Brief Report

A 2-day online workshop was organized on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR). The session was attended by 100 people. The speaker Mr. Ratnesh Kumar Pandey discussed various aspects of Intellectual property (IP), which pertains to any original creation of the human intellect such as artistic, literary, technical, or scientific creation. IPR refers to the legal rights given to the inventor or creator to protect his invention or creation for a certain period of time. These legal rights confer an exclusive right to the inventor/creator or his assignee to fully utilize his invention/creation for a given period of time. It is well accepted that IP plays a vital role in the modern economy.

There has been a quantum jump in research and development (R&D) costs with an associated jump in investments required for putting a new technology in the marketplace. The stakes for the developers of technology have become very high, and hence, the need to protect the knowledge from unlawful use has become important, that would ensure recovery of the R&D and other associated costs and adequate profits for continuous investments in R&D.

IPR is a strong tool, to protect investments, time, money, effort invested by the inventor/creator of an IP, since it grants the inventor/creator an exclusive right for a certain period of time for use of his invention/creation. Thus IPR, in this way aids the economic development of a country by promoting healthy competition and encouraging industrial development and economic growth. In the case of a listed company, an IP valuation helps to communicate the value of its IP assets to capital markets, supports its share prices, and helps obtain funding from investors.

The workshop covered following areas:

- Combination Inventions and Patent Protection
- Small and Micro Entities Pursuing Patents
- Patent Drawings
- International Patent Protection
- First-to-File Rule for Patent Applications
- Working with a Patent Lawyer
